Saturday 10th June 2017
Cleaver Square, London SE11 4EA
from 12.00 noon

The seventh Boules Muratti will be held in the idyllic setting of Cleaver Square – one of London's finest Georgian Squares. An added attraction of the square is a pub, The Prince of Wales, where traditional pub food and good beer is available. We'll meet for lunch from 12.00 and start playing when we've eaten.

No advance notice (or boules experience) is necessary.

However if you're a Boules star and have a set of Boules, then we'll be particularly delighted to see you there.

The nearest underground station to Cleaver Square is Kennington (Northern Line), about five minutes' walk away.

Come and join this lovely summer social event!
